STATEMENT

To The Tax Payers and Citizens of Knox County:—

I understand that statements are being made to the people of Knox County that the County is largely in debt, that its moneys have been squandered and that several thousand dollars have been turned over by Ex-Sheriff, Dan H. Williams to S. H. Jones, Sheriff of Knox County. All such statements are false. I herewith submit the sworn statement of S. H. Jones, showing the total amount turned over to him by Ex-Sheriff, Dan H. Williams, and the amount now in his hands due Knox County, together with the statement of R. P. Black, Clerk of the Knox County Court, showing the amount of unpaid claims against the County for the year 1912. These statements and affidavits are as follows:

I, S. H. Jones, Sheriff of Knox County, do hereby State and certify that there was turned over to me by Dan H. Williams, Ex-Sheriff of Knox County, the sum of $10.57 and no more.

The records of my office show there is in my hands due Knox County for the year 1912, not less than $885.54, which sum will be increased with some additional amounts to be added to this, in the way of exonerations, assessments and delinquent tax collected, for 1912, which have not been fully ascertained.

This June 17th, 1912.

S. H. JONES, Sheriff Knox County.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by S. H. Jones, this the 17th day of June, 1913.

READ P. BLACK, Clerk Knox County Court.

STATE OF KENTUCKY,) COUNTY OF KNOX.)

I, R. P. Black, Clerk of the Court, in and for the County and State aforesaid, certify that I have gone over the records in my office showing the claims allowed for the year 1912, that said records show that all said claims allowed have been certified by us to the Sheriff and delivered to the claimant or someone for him for payment, except the sum of $582.50 remain on our books uncertified.

This June 19th, 1913.

R. P. BLACK, Clerk.

By JOHN H. DAVIS, D. C.

This shows that there is now to the credit of Knox County $303.04 for the year 1912, and this amount is to be increased by other funds as indicated in the affidavit of S. H. Jones above, not yet ascertained.

My belief is that these incorrect statements have been made for the purpose of injuring me in my race for the nomination for County Judge. I request the tax-payers of the County to investigate the facts shown by the record, and then to determine for themselves when they have learned the truth of these matters, whether they wish a continuation of the conduct of the affairs of the County, and especially in the matter of improving the public roads, or to return to the former condition of dangerous and impassable roads and mudholes. While it has not been possible within the time and with the means at hand to improve all the roads, under my administration as County Judge, it has been the aim and policy, when we started in to repair or build a road, to do so in a way that would make of it a permanent and valuable improvement. The former policy of scattering the road funds in temporary repair—a little here and a little there—has proven a dismal failure. These facts are well known to the people of the County. The expenditures of all public money for Knox County is a matter of public record and all citizens have a right and are invited to look at these records for themselves, and you are requested to do this, rather than take for granted these incorrect statements of irresponsible persons.

Respectfully,
J. T. STAMPER, Judge.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination to the office of Judge of the Knox County Court, subject to the action of the Progressive party, in the primary election to be held August 2nd, 1913. I have served the people of Knox County in this office for nearly four years. The difficulties which I have had to meet have been many and vexatious. I feel that I have in a measure succeeded in overcoming them, and giving to the people a progressive and sound administration of the County's affairs. The records show the County is not in debt, as some would have you believe. The records are open to your inspection. When I came into office the public roads were almost impassable condition. You had been promised by my predecessors that your roads should be improved. You know to what extent that had been done. My opponents in this race are Judge James S. Miller, formerly County Judge of the County, and Judge T. J. Wyatt, who had held this office two or more terms. Without intending, unjustly, to criticize these gentlemen, I suggest that the people know what services they rendered and efforts they made in the way of public improvements, and especially upon the roads. I am willing that each of us shall be tried by our works. I have long maintained that good roads were the very life of a county or community and necessary for the prosperity of any country. I have, I think, given more time and attention to this important question than any of my predecessors. With the means at hand I have endeavored to get the most and the best results for the tax-payers. It is now up to you, and you have the opportunity to decide for yourselves which of the three candidates before you have given you the most for your money and the most permanent improvements, especially in road building. If elected, it will be my purpose to devote my entire time to the best interests of the tax-payers and people in the future, as I feel that I have done in the past. I ask the vote of all members of the Progressive party, and the moral support of all other good citizens, regardless of political affiliation, upon the record I have made as your County Judge.

Respectfully,
J. T. STAMPER,

PRIMARY LAW NOT VERY CLEAR

Court of Appeals Deplores
Possibilities of Disaster
To Candidates and Voters Growing
Out of One
Section.

Frankfort, Ky., June 21.—"Confusion worse confounded" described the provisions for the qualification of candidates in the State primary act of 1912 after the Court of Appeals passed on them Friday, or rather regretted that it could not do so effectively, and concerning which the Court remarked:—

"We well apprehend and deplore the possibilities of disaster to the rights of both candidates and voters that flow from the committal into so many different judicial hands, some of them unskilled, and others, perhaps, partisan, the designed to be prevented by the section of the act in question."

This section provides that: "Whenever it shall be made to appear by affidavit filed in the Circuit Court that an error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the placing of any name on an official primary ballot or that an error or wrong has been committed in printing such ballot, or in the performance of any duty imposed by this act, the court shall order the officer or person charged with such error, wrong, or neglect, forthwith to correct the error, desist from the wrongful act or perform the duty or show cause why he should not be compelled to do so. Failure to obey the orders of the Judge or court shall be contempt of court and punishable as such. If the Circuit Court be not in session in the county, the Circuit Judge shall hear and determine the complaint in vacation unless he be absent from the county, in which case said affidavit shall be filed before the Judge of the County Court, who shall have full power to hear and determine the complaint and make appropriate orders therein. The orders of a court or Judge under this section shall be final and not appealable. Only candidate may institute proceedings under this section." This the court of Appeals said today is the exclusive remedy of the candidate, who cannot proceed in equity to secure his rights.

The effect of this provision was seen in three cases before the Court Friday. The Clerk of Johnson county refused to accept the petition of E. W. Robinson, who sought to be a candidate in the primary for the Republican nomination for Assessor, because he did not state that he had supported the candidates of that party at the last election, as required by the primary act. He secured a writ of mandamus from the Circuit Court, from which the Clerk appealed. His appeal was dismissed, although the Court of Appeals declared the proceeding in mandamus was wrong and should have been an affidavit. A similar writ granted voters who signed Robinson's petition, was reversed and in that case the Court of Appeals held that the primary law provisions are constitutional, and the requirement that the candidate state for what party ticket he voted at the last election does not violate the constitutional guaranty of the secrecy of the ballot. Robinson consequently cannot get his name on the ballot, although he does not qualify as a candidate under the primary act, upheld by the Court of Appeals.

The situation in two cases from Jefferson county is almost exactly reversed. There Charles Gardner

CARD

TO THE REPUBLICAN OF KNOX COUNTY:—

I hereby announce myself as a Republican candidate for the office of County Judge and most respectfully ask your support.

I believe that the office of County Judge should be filled by a lawyer and let the other offices go to those of other vocations.

It nominated and elected, I shall use every effort known to me, to discharge the duties of that office, fairly and impartially, alike to the rich and poor, white and colored, without favor or affection, because of wealth or color.

I shall likewise use every endeavor to see that the burden of the tax payer shall be lightened; that every boy and girl be given the best advantages possible for an education; that our Public highways, which are the light and moving spirit of every country of progress, be made better at all times and that the laws of this country be strictly enforced in order that peace and quiet may reign supreme in our country.

I might say, that this portion of Knox County has never had the office of Judge, nor any other County office, except one for the last fifteen years, and in the spirit of fairness to the citizens of this portion of the county, their time should come at some time for a division of the offices.

I have been a Republican all of my life, and each year when campaigns were on, I have always been found battling for the cause.

I have been practicing law for more than twenty years, and feel that I will know how to discharge the duties of that office to the best interest of our people. I ask your support and if elected I pledge my best efforts to make an efficient officer of Knox county.

Very truly,
S. H. KASH.

All Day Meeting Sunday

The Baptist Church held their all day meeting at the Fair Grounds Sunday. The members of the Church and Sunday School were taken out and back by automobiles and wagons. The principal address in the morning was made by John H. Davis, followed by a short address by the pastor. At noon, all assembled under the trees together for dinner. In the afternoon the children rendered a program, that was enjoyed by many. The day was spent pleasantly and profitably by over a hundred of the Church.

The pastor preached at night at the Church to a small congregation on account of the storm and rain.

Sam Kash for County Judge

Sam H. Kash, of Cobin, this week announces for Judge of the Knox County Court, subject to the action of the Republican party, at the August primary.

Mr. Kash is probably better qualified than any candidate that has announced for this office so far, his ability as a lawyer being well known, a point that should be considered in his favor in the election of an aspirant to this office.

Mr. Kash has never been elected to an office in this county although holding several appointive and elective offices outside the county, and states that he has the assurance of a great number of voters over the county that should he enter the race he would receive their support.

Judge Stamper Candidate for Re-election

Judge J. T. Stamper has inserted in this issue of the Mountain Advocate his announcement for re-election as Judge of Knox County, subject to the action of the Progressive Party, at the August Primary. Judge Stamper has been making an active canvass for some time past among the voters of the county and is sanguine as to his prospects of nomination and final election in November. He has while in office made both friends and enemies, as would be natural in any public office, but he says he has tried to do his duty as best he saw it at all times and promises if re-elected, to use the same impartiality in the future in the faithful performance of his duty as in the past.

Newspapers Must Be Delivered Promptly After First-class Matter.

Instructions went out from Washington, on June 10th, from First Assistant Postmaster General, Daniel Roper, to all postmasters directing them to handle newspapers sent to subscribers through the mail with the utmost dispatch possible, after disposition of the first-class matter.

"Many of the papers contain market quotations and other commercial data which are frequently used by the subscribers in their daily business operations, and the value of this information is lost if it is unduly delayed in sending," explained Mr. Roper to the postmasters. He directed that on the receipt of mail all labeled "daily papers" should be distributed promptly.

RIGHT HERE IS YOUR CHANCE To Buy That Typewriter!

This is Straight-from-the-Shoulder Typewriter Talk by a Typewriter Man to the Readers of The Mountain Advocate

No other typewriter built—regardless of any claims made—is the equal of the new FOX VISIBLE Typewriter either in material used, or in workmanship, or in the number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built and sold, but we claim for the New FOX VISIBLE Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any other typewriter. The New FOX is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you—we will make it at our expense, if you will permit us.

Whether you have had the use of a typewriter or not, you have paid for one many times over! Yes, sir, we mean it; every day you continue using the old, slow method of writing with a pen you are unnecessarily paying for a typewriter. The farmer who cuts his grain with a scythe pays with every drop of sweat for a reaper. If you are neglectful of your wearing apparel and expose yourself unnecessarily to the rain and cold you are paying for the very things that would have kept you well and comfortable. Remember this and mark it well: You must Pay—Pay—Pay—for the necessities of this life, whether you use them or not.

THIS IS THE NEW VISIBLE FOX "BETTER THAN THE BEST OF ALL OTHERS" SENT ON FREE TRIAL, Express Prepaid

Look at the illustration of our New FOX VISIBLE Typewriter, shown above, and compare it with any other typewriter you have ever seen or used. Here is a really VISIBLE typewriter—note that the printing point is on top in plain sight, and that the type bars rise from where they are laying and strike the platen in full view of the operator, and in direct line of vision, and that all of what you have written remains in full sight until the paper is removed from the typewriter. Compare this with those old style typewriters, that some firms are still advertising as visibles, but on which the printing point is beneath the typebars, and you have to look down into them—or between them—to see what you have written. Touch a key on the keyboard and you change the color of your writing instantly from black, blue, or purple to red. Press the Tabulator Key at the left (in front) for paragraphing, writing the complimentary closing, etc.; also for all kinds of billing. At the right (in front) is our Back Space Key. This moves the carriage backward for making corrections, or putting in punctuation. This Key also enables the operator to erase a word of three letters and write one of four in its place. Press the Stencil Key shown at the left (front) for making stencils from which thousands of duplicate letters can be made. Four rows of keys reduce the shifting one-third. The right Shift Key locks automatically for writing in all caps. A positive automatic Line Lock prevents you from writing beyond a predetermined line. The ribbon travels in a "zig-zag" line—not straight across from spool to spool as on others—thus using all the ribbon and making it last three or four times as long as on other typewriters. The ribbon automatically re-winds itself from one spool to the other without any attention from the operator. Carriages are interchangeable, and run on ball bearing tracks. Platens are removable, so that both a hard and soft platen can be used on the same typewriter. Extremely light touch. No falling leaf is lighter than the touch of the FOX Typewriter. Choice of Elite, Pica, Condensed Roman, Medium Roman, or Italic Type—we carry more than 100 different special type in stock, of our own manufacture, and can furnish keyboards with cleaning outfit and metal cover with hard wood base. This is the FOX, the typewriter we manufacture—this is the typewriter that we will send to anyone anywhere in the United States on Free Trial, all express charges fully paid—no "red tape"—no delay—no obligation to buy. If purchased after trial you can pay a little down—whatever you can spare—and the balance in small monthly payments.

Reader, in all sincerity we can honestly say this proposition has never been equaled by any other typewriter company, and all we ask is that you write us TO-DAY—NOW—giving us your name and address so we can send you our catalog and write you personally about our typewriter and Free Trial offer.

On last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a number of ministers and deacons from several churches in the county, with several brethren and sisters from the community, met at Davis Bend school house to organize a Church. After singing, the Scripture was read by Elder L. W. Hampton, after which Bro. T. J. Hembré led in prayer.

The council was organized by electing Elder L. W. Hampton, Moderator, and Elder A. C. Hutson, Clerk. Credentials were read, recommending thirty-one persons for the new organization. Upon motion and second, they were constituted a Church by the adoption of the Articles of Faith in Perdelet's Church Manual and a Church Covenant.

A collection was taken for State missions, amounting to $5.05. The new organization will be known as the Davis Chapel Baptist Church. On Sunday a Sunday School was organized and Elder A. J. Steadfast Confidence

The Following Statement Should Form
Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Barbourville Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorser who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice told and confirmed with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It's from a Middlesboro re-teller:

O. Biggerstaff, 36 Exeter Ave., Middlesboro, Ky., says: "There is no doubt about Doan's Kidney Pills being a good remedy. I heard them highly spoken of and got a box. They were used by members of my family for backache and other kidney troubles and the results were satisfactory."

Deplorable Accident.

One of the most unusual and most deplorable accidents to ever occur in Knox county, took place last Saturday, several miles east of this city on Bull Creek. Henry Smith, while up in a mulberry tree eating the berries, was shot and killed by a man by the name of Robinson, who mistook the moving leaves for the action of a squirrel and fired at them, the entire charge of shot taking effect in Mr. Smith, killing him instantly. Robinson was squirrel hunting and slipped up to the tree and when just within sight of the tree saw the leaves moving but the body of Mr. Smith was not discernable from the place where Robinson was standing and thinking that the moving leaves were caused by a squirrel, took aim and fired. An inquest was held and it is reported that the jury completely exonerated Robinson and while the accident was greatly deplored, could not find any evidence of any intentional injury to the deceased. Both were married and have families.

Baseball at Middlesboro

Middlesboro entered the Appalachian League at the beginning of this season taking the place of Asheville, N. C. This is the first time that a team from this section of the State has ever been represented in an organized league and it was predicted that they would not last the season out, but now that the season is nearly half over, the enthusiasm is higher than at the beginning of the season and the team is well up in the race. Beginning with a team that was all new and with the handicap of having to learn all new signals and get a system they did not win very consistently at first, but now they are well under way playing as good ball as any club in the circuit and fans from all over this section are attending the games and it is reported that they are drawing better at home than any other team in the league. Several attend from this city last Sunday say they'd eat their hardest opponents, Knoxville.

"Studebaker wagons certainly last a long time"

"I have had this wagon twenty-two years, and during that time it cost me only $6.00 for repairs, and that was for setting two tires."

"And after twenty-two years of daily use in good and bad weather and over all kinds of roads, I will put this wagon against any new wagon of another make that you can buy today."

"Studebaker wagons are built of air-dried lumber and tested iron and steel. Even the paint and varnish are subjected to a laboratory test to insure wearing qualities."

"No wagon made is subjected to as many tests or is more carefully made than a Studebaker. You can buy them of Studebaker dealers everywhere."

"Don't listen to the dealer who wants to sell you a cheap wagon, represented to be 'just as good' as a Studebaker."

Farm wagons, trucks, dump wagons and carts, delivery wagons, buggies, surreys, depot wagons—and harness of all kinds of the same high standard as the Studebaker vehicles.

Land Show at Conservation Exposition Will Set a New Mark

WHAT A BUSINESS MAN SAID

Nothing Like Display in This Department of Big National Exposition Ever Has Been Attempted in the Country Before—Lessons for Farmers.

E. D. Stratton, land and industrial agent of the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific and the Alabama Great Southern railroads, paid his first visit a few days ago to the grounds upon which the big National Conservation Exposition will be held in Knoxville, Tenn. from September 1 to November 1 of the present year. He went to Knoxville with a party of other railroad men. After his visit to the grounds, after he saw what had been done and what was being done in preparation for the exposition, he expressed himself in this wise:

"To say that I was most favorably impressed would be to put it mildly. I had no idea that such a site for an exposition could be found anywhere in this country. I had no idea of the extent and character of the buildings already up, and I was delighted to see such good progress being made in the erection of the big new buildings."

"Will your roads be represented by a land exhibit?" he was asked.

"They will," he replied, positively. "They could not afford to be unrepresented."

This was a hard-headed man of business speaking. He had seen. That was enough for him. His decision was made.

Greatest of All Land Shows.

At this early date this statement can be made positively and without fear of contradiction:

THE LAND SHOW AT THE NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION IS GOING TO BE, NOT ONLY THE GREATEST LAND SHOW EVER SEEN IN THE SOUTH, BUT THE GREATEST LAND SHOW EVER SEEN ANYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Land primarily is the basis of all wealth. Much has been learned about land in recent years, many lessons of incalculable benefit to the tillers of the soil have been taught. Many lessons remain to be learned; there is still much in the land and in the methods of its best cultivation still to be taught. Land shows are, comparatively speaking, a new institution. They have done much to educate the people.

The conservation of the soil of the United States is one of the greatest projects undertaken in this twentieth century of progress.

And the Land Show at the National Conservation Exposition is going to exemplify the most advanced thought along these lines.

Building Is All Ready.

The new Land Building on the beautiful exposition grounds of the National Conservation Exposition is completed. It stands on a terrace; it is beautiful in design, beautiful in execution. In the rear of the building is an auditorium that will seat 3,000 persons. The building is spacious and was constructed especially for the Land Show and all that goes with it. On the lower floor of the big white building the land companies and the land departments of the various railroads will have their displays. On the upper floors will be the educational exhibits, and these will include the exhibits of the different experiment stations of the United States Department of Agriculture in the Southern states.

Mr. Farmer, here are a few of the things that are going to interest you when you pay your visit to the National Conservation Exposition and the Land Show in the Fall:

You are going to be shown in a most striking and convincing manner how best to maintain and increase the production of your land.

Lessons of the Show.

You are going to get ideas on how to improve the grade and yields of plant and animal products.

You are going to see the soil of the Southern country, and so arranged to teach you many valuable lessons.

You will see exhibits that have to do with the impoverishment of the soil. You are going to see the best and most modern methods of crop rotation illustrated.

You are going to see actual demonstrations of the way in which you can plant and raise little known products and thus increase the earning capacity of your lands.

You are going to see—What is the use of going farther? The sentiment that the Land Show at the National Conservation Exposition will be the biggest and best ever held still stands.

The railroads are preparing to make very extensive exhibits—the most extensive they ever have made at a Southern show.

EXPOSITION THOUGHT.

The expositions of the past were as songs of achievement at the end of a good day's work. The National Conservation Exposition will be a living and tangible promise of a still more glorious tomorrow foreordained by the wise action of to-day.

Here Is Something New For Big National Conservation Exposition

BIG CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT

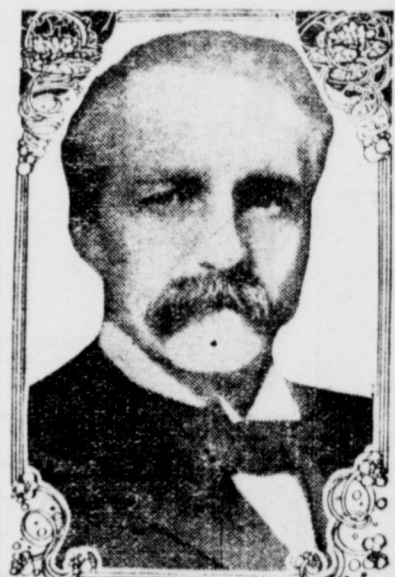

Miss Julia C. Lathrop, One of Country's Most Noted Women, at Head of This Department for Knoxville Show—Every Mother Will Be Interested in Exhibits.

"Check your baby, madame!" This is going to be one of the queries that will be heard frequently during the progress of the big National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville, Tenn. The exposition will throw open its gates on September 1 and will continue until November 1.

The "Baby Checking Department" will be only one of the many novel things that the progressive men and women in charge of the Child Welfare Exhibit will arrange for the exposition. The question asked above and answered affirmatively does not mean that baby will be checked, tagged and then put in an oblong compartment like a suit case. Rather, it will mean that baby will be taken in charge by competent nurses and well cared for.

There is going to be a "babies' room" in the Child Welfare Building at the National Conservation Exposition, a room, well lighted, airy, screened and daintily furnished. There will be plenty of room for the children to romp and play; there will also be cozy rest rooms, where the little ones can sleep when their eyes become heavy and their little legs tired.

Experience has shown that many mothers, rather than miss the show, such as the National Conservation Exposition will be must bring the little ones. The management of the exposition welcomes the children. It wants every child to see the wonders on display. But at the same time the women in charge of the Child Welfare Department realize how necessary it is to have a place where mother can leave the children. So the "Baby

GIFFORD PINCHOT, Conservationist and head of National Advisory Board of National Conservation Exposition.

Checking Department." It will be a place where mother can leave the children and rest assured of the fact that they will be having the best kind of a time, and that they will be looked after every minute of the day.

Baby Health Contest.

It is also proposed that in the Child Welfare Building there shall be a "Baby Health Contest." The one object of this contest will be to set up a standard of health for the babies. The absurd features—too often cruel—of many baby shows will be done away with by this feature. The Babies' Clinic of Knoxville has agreed to cooperate in the "Baby Health Contest."

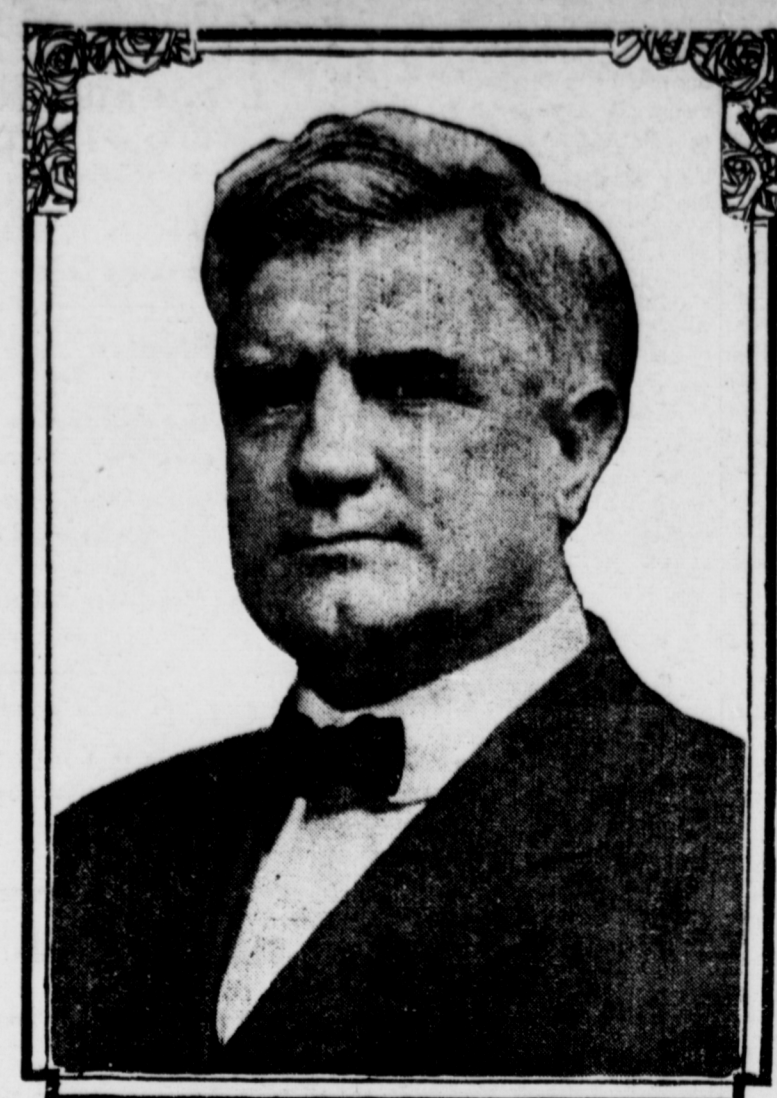

Here is the way in which it will be carried on: First, there will be a standard score card. Then the physical development of the child is compared with the score card, and a certificate or medal is given in accordance with the facts. There is no competition between babies, but only the effort to reach a standard. But the very purpose of the Child Welfare Department of the exposition would not be served unless there were something further. There will be advice to mothers offered by competent men and women. Thus the child will be benefited and also the parents.

These are only two of the many features that will form a part of the exhibits in the Child Welfare Building at the exposition. Miss Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor and one of the most noted women in the country, is in full charge of the plans and preparations that are being made for these exhibits. Miss Lathrop was for many years associated with Miss Jane Addams in the splendid work that is being done by the Hull House settlement in Chicago.

TO INTEREST CHILDREN.

The one aim and object of the managers of the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville in arranging for a Child Welfare Exhibit is to teach valuable lessons to the parents of children and to the children themselves.

PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION

T. A. Wright, attorney and business man of Knoxville, who is one of the men directing affairs of South's great show.

Exposition Planned for Whole People and for Posterity

The country is facing grave problems, the solution of which must come from a clear understanding of conditions, and immediate action. The work of man in dealing with the forests and soils, which were given for use, and not for abuse, may aptly be compared to the work of smaller forms of life, such as the boll-weevil and army worm. The great creator probably views it in this light. Devastation is apparent on every hand, in denuded hills and galled and gullied fields.

For this reason and for many others the National Conservation exposition to be held at Knoxville next fall will mark a most important step in the world's work. The exposition is of nation-wide importance, and timely. It will not be a celebration, like other large expositions. It looks forward—pointing the way to better conditions. It is in line with the advanced thought of the day. It will stand second to no enterprise of recent years as an agency for the promotion of the general welfare.

The great plans and purposes of this exposition are being carried out for the benefit of the whole people and of posterity.—From statement made by W. M. Goodman, Director General of Exposition.

WOMEN AT WORK

They Are Striving for Success of National Conservation Exposition.

Women all over the South are working heart and soul for the success of the National Conservation Exposition that will be held in Knoxville, Tenn., next September and October.

The women will have a building on the exposition grounds devoted entirely to them and to their interests. The building now in course of construction will be one of the handsomest and most striking in the group of exposition structures. It is being built in the old Colonial style.

The building was designed for the women; it is set apart for their use. In it will be shown hundreds and thousands of things of interest to women. The woman's building will be primarily devoted to the display of "various things embraced in that comprehensive term—domestic science—and to the display of the arts and crafts in which they will find delight and instruction."

Mrs. Horace Van Deventer, of Knoxville, a daughter of Justice Lurton of the supreme court of the United States, is chairman of the woman's board of the exposition and is devoting much of her time to the work. Mrs. Van Deventer is getting splendid assistance from the women of other great Southern states.

NO ADVANCE IN HOTEL RATES.

Visitors to National Conservation Exposition To Be Well Treated.

Those who are contemplating a visit to the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville during the months of September and October of this year can make their plans assured of this fact: The rates at the Knoxville hotels will not be advanced while the Exposition is on. This has too often been the case in other cities where big national expositions have been held. It will not be the case in Knoxville.

FISH AND GAME EXHIBIT.

Under the direction of John H. Wallace, Jr., Game and Fish Commissioner of Alabama, an exhibit of fish and game for the National Conservation Exposition is being prepared. Audubon societies are also co-operating in this work.

GOOD ROADS LESSONS.

Good roads are necessary requisites to the development of any country. The necessity of good roads in the South will be set forth by a line of exhibits at the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville this fall.

WILL EXPLOIT SOUTH

National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville to Feature Mines and Minerals.

Gov. James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, has read so much about the National Conservation Exposition that is to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., during the months of September and October, had become so much impressed with the magnitude of the exposition and its importance to the South as a whole that he recently called Dr. J. B. Hoeling, State Geologist, before him.

"Dr. Hoeling," the governor said in effect, "this exposition at Knoxville is going to be a big thing, a much bigger exposition for the South in every way than most people imagine. I am anxious that you go down to Knoxville, look over the ground, see what is being done, and arrange for a state exhibit of Kentucky minerals at the exposition. Kentucky can not afford to be unrepresented, I believe."

Dr. Hoeling came to Knoxville, marveled at the work being done and at the work already accomplished. He went back to Frankfort and made his report to Gov. McCreary.

Kentucky will have its exhibit at Knoxville. The incident thus related is only one of a number of similar character that have occurred recently. Many who could not see things aright before, have become convinced that the National Conservation Exposition is to be in reality a national exposition, nation-wide in scope, nation-wide in character.

The United States government, through its different departments and bureaus, is taking a deep interest in the success of the big undertaking, and in no department probably more than in the Department of Mines and Minerals.

In the first place the managers of the Exposition have taken into consideration that the mineral resources of the Great New South are many and varied, that for richness of deposits there are none just like them anywhere in the country, and they have taken into consideration the fact that there is much development work still to be done among these mineral deposits. So a magnificent new building, white as snow, as are all of the other buildings of the Exposition, is going up. It will be used exclusively for the display of mines and mineral exhibits.

Here the resources that mean so much to the South will be on display; here the lessons of how best to conserve these wonderfully rich resources will be taught; here the lessons of how best to protect the lives of those who go down in the mines as a means of earning a livelihood will be portrayed.

PREMIUM LIST BIG

Live Stock Show Will Be Feature of National Conservation Exposition

$14,000 IN PRIZES OFFERED

Object of Manager of Live Stock Department Is To Make Display Absolutely Clean and Stimulate Breeding of Better Class of Animals in South.

Some of the objects of the Live Stock Show to be held in connection with the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville, as set forth by the director of that department, John A. Jones, are:

To show to the farmer and live stock man how much more economical, how much better, it is for him to breed a good animal than a scrub animal.

To show that successful farming depends, not only on the man behind the plow, but also on the weight of the team in front of the plow.

To show that agriculture and live stock breeding are closely related and can not be separated.

To prove that great opportunities—opportunities as great as exist anywhere—for the raising and breeding of live stock are being neglected and are going to waste in the South.

To prove by actual demonstration the advantages to be gained by the breeding and raising of swine and sheep in the South.

To make the show absolutely clean and high class.

To do everything possible to foster the breeding interests of the Southern country.

Fine Displays at Show.

The Live Stock Show that will be held at the big National Conservation Exposition, in Knoxville, from September 1 to November 1, of the present year, will be the greatest event of its kind probably ever held in the South. As the object of the National Exposition is to teach the lesson of the necessity of conserving the natural resources of the country, so, too, will the object of the Live Stock Show be to teach a lesson—the lesson of conservation.

By displays and exhibits of finely bred animals—horses, cattle, sheep and swine—and also by comparisons between these well-bred beasts with scrubs will the lessons of the Live Stock Show be taught. Noted men of the live stock world will deliver lectures from time to time. There will be other features forming a part of the show that will be new and novel and of a character never seen at a similar show in the South before.

The premium list is large. The total amount offered in premiums in all departments of the show is $14,000, and these premiums are so arranged that every owner of a well-bred animal will have a chance of being declared a winner in some of the classes.

Many Other Big Prizes.

There is a stake of $1,000 offered for the best saddle horse to be shown in the ring at the Night Horse Show.

There is an offer of an $800 award for the best pair of heavy brood mares to be shown. This offer, it is expected, will result in a better class of heavy draft animals being raised in the South.

There is also a special prize of $1,000 for the best exhibit of live stock from any county in any Southern state. This is the first time that such a premium has been offered for an event of this kind. The total premium list in connection with this one event alone foots up to $2,700.

A commodious, well-ventilated building will house the live stock exhibits at the Conservation Exposition. The ring in which the animals will be shown has been pronounced to be one of the best in the country. A Night Horse Show will be held, and this will be made much of. It is expected to attract large crowds and also a fine line of exhibits.

HO! FOR KNOXVILLE

National Conservation Exposition To Be Big Event of the Year

SOUTH'S GLORY ON DISPLAY

Exposition Will Be One of the "Different" Kind and Will Be Greater in All Ways Than Anything Ever Seen in This Section of United States Before.

The National Conservation Exposition that will be held in the picturesque city of Knoxville from September 1 to November 1, of the present year, will be the one big event of the year in the South.

No meeting, no gathering, no conference, no exhibition of any kind will overshadow in importance the National Conservation Exposition. It will be national in scope, national in character.

The National Conservation Exposition has been planned along broad lines and is designed to teach the great lesson of the necessity of conserving the resources that nature has so bountifully bestowed on the country. More especially will the necessity of conserving the immense resources of the South be brought out and emphasized at the Exposition.

Following are a few facts that give some idea of the magnitude and the aims of the National Conservation Exposition:

The exposition plant represents an outlay of over $2,000,000.

The site of the exposition is in the most beautiful park in the South—a park that nestles in the foothills of the great Smoky mountains, picturesque, rolling, green, highly improved.

Eleven Big Buildings.

The exposition grounds embrace with lakes and drives over one hundred acres.

Never was a site for an exposition with more natural advantages chosen, never one better adapted to exposition purposes.

Eleven large exposition buildings, modern, stately, snowy white, as well as a number of smaller buildings, will house this exposition.

Railroads realize the importance of the exposition and are co-operating in every way in the enterprise.

National leaders of conservation with Gifford Pinchot as chairman are directing the exposition.

Sixteen Southern states have formed boards for exposition work and these boards are actively engaged in the collection of comprehensive exhibits and in arranging state days for the exposition.

South a Treasure House.

The National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville during September and October will be "different." The displays in various lines will be the largest, the most diversified, the most interesting ever seen in any exposition in the South; they will compare favorably with any exposition ever held in the United States and they will all teach graphically, eloquently and pointedly the lesson of conservation, admittedly one of the greatest questions before the American people to-day.

And about all the South—the great South, the South that is a treasure house of the nation, the South busy with the hum and the whirl of countless manufacturing industries—will be on display in Knoxville during the exposition. The South with its tremendous resources and great industrial progress will be strikingly typified.

There will be much for every citizen of the country to see in Knoxville during the exposition months, there will be much for every one to learn.

EXPOSITION TO BE READY.

National Conservation Show To Make New Record in This Respect.

The hundreds of thousands of visitors from all parts of the country, and particularly from the Southern States, to the National Conservation Exposition can be assured of one fact even at this early date: That no matter how early they make their visit to the exposition after the gates are formally thrown open they will see the displays complete.

Work is so far advanced now that everything will be ready on the opening day and the complete line of exhibits in all of the many big, white buildings, and in all of the various departments of these buildings, will likewise be ready.

Too many times in the history of expositions in other parts of the country it has happened that the first weeks saw only a portion of the exposition complete. This will not be the case at Knoxville.

LOW RATES FOR EXPOSITION.

Railroads Have Made Concessions For Big Knoxville Show.

Exceptionally low rates—the lowest ever made for an exposition in the South—have been made by the railroads for the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville, Tenn., during the months of September and October. These reduced rates are in force from start to finish of the exposition and will afford thousands of persons living within a radius of 300 miles opportunity to make the trip to Knoxville at comparatively little cost.
